

Podcast Interview Questions, Seasoned Homemaker

Guest Intro: Tell us a little about who you are today, then we will go back and trace your homemaking story from the beginning. (Here you can include things such as family info, career info, hobbies, etc. Your reply should be just about 1 minute or so.)

Background & Skills

- When did you first become a homemaker and what, if any, skills did you bring with you into that role?
- Who or what has influenced your homemaking?
- What is your greatest homemaking strength? Weakness?

Expectations & Challenges

- What surprised you most about homemaking, good or bad; something you didn't expect?
- What special challenges (financial struggles, infertility, caregiving, health issues, etc.) did you face in your homemaking journey and how did you work through that challenge to adapt and grow?

Hospitality & Personal Growth

- How did you invite your kids to participate in homemaking with you? (If applicable)
- What is one practical way you showed hospitality in your homemaking?
- How did or do you set priorities & keep them in order? (For example, managing homemaking tasks, spiritual growth, time with your husband, your health, etc)
- What does your homemaking look like in this season you are in right now? How are you still challenging yourself to grow and learn as a homemaker?

Continued on Next Page

Homemaking Tasks: rapid fire/quick answer just for fun

- A memorable homemaking fail
- A memorable homemaking achievement
- Favorite Homemaking Hack or Tip
- Homemaking Tool or Product you Can't Live Without
- Your Signature Dish

The Art of Home:

- How do you see homemaking as an art? Where do you find beauty in the art of homemaking?
- What is one thing about homemaking you are thankful for?

Titus 2 Women:

- What word of advice or encouragement would you give to younger homemakers? (A mistake to avoid, an opportunity to seize, etc.)

Bonus Content: Christmas—Unless guest declines, we will do a Christmas interview for the next Christmas season (even if we are interviewing in January 😊)

The final season of the year will be a mini-season all about Christmas. These episodes will be a compilation of short holiday segments from each of the women I interviewed during the year.

After the main interview, we will record a brief holiday segment using the following questions as guidelines.

- What does a typical Christmas Day look like at your home? (Who is there, what are you eating, etc?) And do you have a special recipe that you always make at Christmas?
- Did you and your household have special holiday traditions? (Caroling, gingerbread house competition, working at a soup kitchen, cutting your own tree, sending Christmas cards...etc.)

Continued on Next Page

- Rapid Fire Q&A
 - Favorite Christmas Song or Carol?
 - Favorite Christmas Movie?
 - Gingerbread or sugar cookie?
 - Fake tree or real?
 - Team white lights or colored lights?
 - Christmas music before or after Thanksgiving?
 - When do you take down Christmas decor?

- Holidays are hectic. How did you maintain balance in this busy season and keep your focus on what really matters to you and your family?